2 — Today's Market-Moving News

■ IRAN / STRAIT OF HORMUZ — Oil surges 5% as deal collapses

Iran's Foreign Minister Araghchi declared Monday that Tehran will NOT reopen the Strait of Hormuz unless the U.S. lifts its naval blockade, pays war-damage compensation, and ends sanctions. The strait handles ~20% of global oil supply and has been effectively closed since a late-February Iran-U.S. conflict. Only 8-15 vessels transit daily vs. ~130 pre-conflict. WTI jumped ~5% to $82.13; Brent hit $87.72. President Trump: U.S. is 'only semi-negotiating' and will rely on the naval blockade as leverage rather than airstrikes.

■ INTEL (INTC) — Down 3-5% on $15 billion share offering

Intel launched its first public share sale since its 1971 IPO: $15B in common stock (plus $2.25B overallotment). Proceeds fund AI capex after Intel raised 2026 capex guidance from $18B to >$20B. Offering dilutes share count by ~3%, pushing shares below $100. Market concern: unclear AI ROI timeline on capital that has not yet generated returns.

■ NVIDIA (NVDA) — Modest pullback after +5.2% Nasdaq week

After Nvidia gained ~2.33% last week as the Nasdaq surged 5.2%, NVDA experienced shallow profit-taking Monday. Fundamentals unchanged; next earnings report is August 26.

■ CRITICAL MINERALS — Rally on White House $2B+ mining investment

The White House announced >$2B in domestic mining investments late Friday, triggering gains in 5E Advanced Materials (FEAM), MP Materials (MP), Energy Fuels (UUUU), US Antimony (UAMY), Critical Metals (CRML), and USA Rare Earth (USAR). Policy aligns with semiconductor/defense supply-chain security amid China tensions.

■ CONTEXT: Weak July jobs report drove last week's rally

Friday Aug 7 catalyst: July nonfarm payrolls showed a surprise loss of -23,000 jobs (first contraction since the pandemic). This revived Fed-hold expectations, cut yields, and drove S&P; 500 +0.6% to 7,757.64 and Nasdaq +1.3% to 26,690.62 on Friday. Full week: S&P; +3.6%, Nasdaq +5.2% (best week since April 2026).

■ FED / MACRO — Rates at 3.50-3.75%; July CPI due Wednesday

FOMC held at 3.50-3.75% at July 29 meeting. June CPI: +3.5% YoY, core +2.6%. July CPI (Wed Aug 12) consensus: +3.4% headline, +2.5% core. Prediction markets: <55% chance headline exceeds 3.3%. Hot print = stagflation fear; tame print = buy signal.

3 — News → Today's SPY/QQQ Moves

Driver	SPY Effect	QQQ Effect	Mechanism
Iran/Hormuz — Oil +5%	−0.05%	−0.05%	Energy cost pressure on transport/manufacturing; risk-off tone across markets
Intel −4% ($15B dilution)	−0.03%	−0.10%	Direct index weight drag (INTC ~2% QQQ) + sector chill on AI capex ROI
Nvidia pullback −1-2%	−0.04%	−0.15%	NVDA ~5% of QQQ weight; shallow profit-taking after 5.2% Nasdaq week
Critical minerals rally	+0.02% offset	Negligible	Small-cap names, minimal SPY/QQQ weight; positive domestic policy signal
Weak jobs (prior Fri)	No new effect	No new effect	Already priced; dovish residue cushions but does not reverse Monday decline

Summary: Monday's −0.10% SPY / −0.30% QQQ decline driven by (a) oil +5% on Hormuz impasse, (b) Intel dilution weighing on tech-heavy QQQ, and (c) Nvidia profit-taking. Critical-mineral gains and dovish job residuals were insufficient to offset.

5 — Next-Day & Week-Ahead Scenarios

Aug 10 had no major scheduled releases. Key catalysts this week: Wed Aug 12 (CPI), Thu Aug 13 (PPI + AMAT earnings), Fri Aug 14 (Retail Sales + UMich).

CATALYST 1 — July CPI (Wednesday Aug 12, 8:30 AM ET)

→ IF tame — headline $\leq 3.3\%$, core $\leq 2.4\%$ → BULLISH

Prediction markets lean this way (~55% probability). Confirms disinflation progress. Yields fall, growth stocks re-rate. SPY +0.5-1.5%; QQQ +1-2%. Fed rate-cut bets for Sep/Nov 2026 reprice higher. AI/semis and high-multiple tech the biggest beneficiaries.

→ IF hot — headline $\geq 3.5\%$, core $\geq 2.6\%$ → BEARISH

Stagflation narrative: oil at $82 (Hormuz closure) + sticky inflation = Fed must hike. Yields spike, duration risk hits growth stocks hard. SPY -1 to -2%; QQQ -1.5 to -3%. Energy stocks (XOM, CVX) benefit as inflation hedge.

→ IF in-line — 3.4% / 2.5% → NEUTRAL to SLIGHT POSITIVE

Already partly priced via weak jobs. Confirming print = 'buy the confirmation.' SPY +0.1-0.3%. Market looks ahead to Thursday's AMAT earnings.

CATALYST 2 — Applied Materials (AMAT) Earnings (Thursday Aug 13, after close)

→ IF BEAT — EPS $> $3.39$, rev $> $9B$, guide raised → BULLISH

4 consecutive beats; confirms AI capex cycle intact. AMAT +5-8%; semis (NVDA, AMD, LRCX) follow. QQQ +0.5-1% Friday. Bullish read-through into Nvidia Aug 26 earnings.

→ IF MISS or soft guide → BEARISH

AMAT -8-12%; sector -2-5%; QQQ -1 to -1.5% Friday. High shock value: consensus expects +35.5% EPS growth. Miss would expose elevated forward expectations.

CATALYST 3 — Iran / Strait of Hormuz (Ongoing Wild-Card)

→ IF deal announced / Hormuz reopens → OIL CRASHES, STOCKS RALLY

Oil collapses 8-15%. S&P; +1.5-2.5%; Nasdaq +2-3%. Transport/airlines surge. Energy sector falls 4-6%. Largest single positive macro catalyst available this week.

→ IF escalation / new military incident → RISK-OFF

Oil spikes above $90+ Brent. S&P; -1.5 to -2.5%; QQQ -2 to -3%. Safe havens (gold, Treasuries) bid. Airlines/logistics hard hit. Energy stocks gain 4-6%.

CATALYST 4 — PPI + Retail Sales + UMich (Thu-Fri)

→ IF soft-landing trifecta → BULLISH

PPI cool + Retail Sales hold + UMich up = confirmation of soft-landing. SPY likely finishes week at or above $775. Extends July 28-Aug 7 rally.

→ IF stagflation combo — PPI hot + Retail Sales miss → BEARISH

Compounds narrative of 'inflation still too high + growth faltering.' SPY gives back a chunk of last week's 3.6% gain. Especially damaging if hot CPI Wednesday is also confirmed.
